

BRYAN AS CITIZEN WILL FIGHT FOR PEACE; NOTE THAT CAUSED RESIGNATION IS RUSHED

FORMER SECRETARY EXPLAINS FRICTION; FEARS NOTE WILL MEAN WAR IN U. S.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Bryan's personal statement on the reasons for his resignation issued this afternoon contends the difficulties between Germany and United States should be investigated by an international commission and that Americans should be warned to keep off belligerent ships or those carrying ammunition through the danger zone.

At the White House Secretary Tumulty stated positively that no comment would be made on Mr. Bryan's statement.

Washington, June 9.—Just as the new American note to Germany was started on its way over the telegraph wires, Mr. Bryan at his home gave out this statement of his position:

"My reason for resigning is clearly stated in my letter of resignation, namely, that I may employ as a private citizen, the means which the president does not feel at liberty to employ. I honor him for doing what he believes to be right, and I am sure that he desires, as I do, to find a peaceful solution of the problem which has been created by the action of the submarines.

"Two of the points on which we differ, each conscious in his con-

CABINET APPROVES WILSON'S ACT; TEARS FEATURE FAREWELL TO THE COMMONER

Washington, June 9.—Just after two o'clock this afternoon the new American note to Germany which caused the cabinet crisis culminating in Secretary Bryan's resignation, started on its way to Berlin. It will be given out for publication in morning papers of Friday. Simultaneously, William Jennings Bryan's resignation as secretary of state took effect and he gave out a statement of his attitude.

Washington, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan formally left his office as Secretary of State today and Robert Lansing, counselor of the state department was appointed by President Wilson as Secretary of State and interim.

The change in the cabinet at a critical moment in the nation's history took effect with the dispatch of the note to Germany.

Differing, not in the object sought—the prevention of war—but in the method of approaching the problem, Mr. Bryan resigned rather than sign his name to the note which states in unmistakable and emphatic terms the demands of the United States. Mr. Bryan told his colleagues and friends today as they gathered about him in farewell that his affection for President Wilson was unchanged and that he knew the president felt as warmly towards him. Firmly believing he can advance the cause of peace outside of official life and build up a sentiment in the United States that will assist the president in maintaining friendly relations with all nations, Mr. Bryan today went back to private life.

The resignation of the Secretary of State of the United States over a difference on a vital question of foreign policy—itsself unusual in the annals of American history—was most dramatic because of numerous manifestations of personal regard for Mr. Bryan and his own emotion at the leaving of the office he held so dearly.

Tears Feature Farewell

Tears stood in his eyes while friends commended his courageous fight for principle and his determination to eliminate himself rather than continue in the cabinet as a possible embarrassment to the president. The story of his fight to save the president's judgment on the method of dealing with the situation with Germany, is as yet untold. He made no effort to align other members of the cabinet with him, and when he came to the parting of the cause of peace outside of official life and build up a sentiment in the United States that will assist the president in maintaining friendly relations with all nations, Mr. Bryan today went back to private life.

GERMAN SUBMARINE IS SUNK; LAND FORCES CONTINUE GAINS IN GALICIA

AUSTRIANS TAKE STANISLAU

Berlin, June 9 (via London, 3:30 p. m.)—The Galician town of Stanislaw has been captured by the Austrians according to an official statement sent out by the German army headquarters today. Stanislaw is 75 miles southeast of Lemberg, the Galician capital.

Cologne, Germany, June 9—A dispatch from the Russian headquarters on the east frontier states that the Russian army had been strengthened by portion of the detachments already defeated at Kalusz, eastern Galicia, having been cut off from the middle Galician forces and being driven back eastward. The victorious Austro-German forces from Kalusz are only a few miles from Stanislaw.

London, June 9 (12:30)—From Caporetto to the head of the gulf of Trieste the forces of Italy are consolidating their positions along the river Isonzo and in a week or perhaps sooner the first serious battle along this front should be fought. The clashes up to the present time have been of a preliminary character.

In the eastern arena the Russians are fighting desperately to stop the Austro-German advance in the direction of Lemberg. While some sections of the British press maintain that the "Trench" rush has lost its impetus, the more general feeling is that unless the Russians succeed in developing a counter offensive on a

FRENCH PAPERS CALL BRYAN'S ACT A WARNING TO GERMANY

Paris, June 9.—The news of the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan which reached here too late last night for comment by morning papers is given great prominence in the evening papers, which publish detailed sketches of his career.

The Midi refers to the secretary as "Pacific at any price" and says that having been this all his life his resignation should be regarded as a striking warning to Germany.

"President Wilson," this paper continues, "has developed a degree of firmness of which he was not believed capable. Happen what may, the situation is becoming clearer. Let us hope that Berlin will appreciate its grave significance."

L'Information says: "President Wilson in maintaining his ideals has not let the realities escape him. The American character is capable of firmness and resolution and its determinations will not be without consequence."

TELLS OF BATTLE WITH GERMAN BOATS

Petrograd, June 9.—The Army Messenger referring to the naval engagement June 5, in the Baltic Sea off the gulf of Riga says that the Russian submarines engaged no fewer than ten German warships.

When the hostile aircraft was sighted the residents of the city fled to St. Marks square. Apparently they were not concerned about their personal safety, but were chiefly concerned lest damage be done the famous basilica, the rebuilt campanile and the palace of the Doges. No bombs fell in this district, however.

Rumor Willard Is Coming Is A Fake

In the light of recent developments the widely heralded coming of Jesse Willard, champion prize fighter, to Portsmouth, with the 301 Ranch show, appears to be a dream.

The show was said to be scheduled to play Portsmouth on June 14 and also to Sunday here. Some tall and well dressed individual representing himself as the agent in advance of the 24-hour man of the show called on both the sheriff and mayor recently. He said it was his chief duty to sound a note of warning that a lot of rough fellows were following the show and suggested that extra deputies and police be sworn in to take care of them. Sheriff Smith gave him "the cut" telling him pointedly to get out of town. He then returned to the police officials. The mayor also ridiculed his line of talk and assured him that those charged with the responsibility of preserving order would be found on the job all right when the time arrived.

It was taken for granted that the show and Willard were coming until the lithographs advertising the Smith shows for next Monday made their appearance in windows and on billboards. The Bill Posting Company has heard nothing about the Ranch show nor have any further tidings been received by the city officials who are now inclined to believe that the smooth gent was simply playing some slick card.

Get Hot Clue In Saloon Robbery

Officer John Smith, who has been quietly investigating the robbery of the New Eighth street saloon owned by Martin Hollar and Johnson Cropper, believes that he struck "pay dirt" Tuesday evening.

Officer Smith got a line on a drinking party held Sunday, at which a certain brand of whiskey, of which the above saloon firm are practically the exclusive sellers in Portsmouth, was the chief supply. One of the young men was brought before Chief McCarty and Capt. Cooper and questioned and arrests are expected in follow.

The Movies

Renfex Musical Motion Pictures At the Exhibit

Don't overlook the good program to be shown at the Exhibit tonight.

"Bubbling Water," one of the famous Reliance-Mutual Indian dramas is on the program at the ever popular Exhibit today. These Indian dramas never fail to please. Mutual pictures are more than feature films—more than occasional studio endeavors without any definite or consistent plan behind them. They represent the organized effort of a great moving picture combination, to furnish regularly, well-acted, extraordinary well-staged pictures, played by high class artists and written by important authors and playwrights. There is not a better program on the market today than the Mutual.

Owing to a misunderstanding the Renfex musical motion pictures which were to have been shown today will not be produced.

Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne At the Lyric Tonight

Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne are the stars at the Lyric tonight in a stirring romance in three acts, "The Accounting." This will be the last appearance of the two favorites together for some time as Bushman has left the Essanay company and will be seen only in Metro company pictures from now on.

Tomorrow the big attraction will be "The Night," the New York Hudson theatre sensation, produced in five acts of sterling pictures. Margaret Wycherly and John E. Kellard are the stars and the picture from beginning to end is one superb production with a world of real interest and with much to thrill and please.

Charlie Chaplin will be with us Friday in a great comedy called "A Jitney Elopement" in two reels. Of course it's funny, and it's quite a different kind of picture from the rest of the Chaplins. Other good pictures will be shown with it.

Saturday's big attraction will be a three reel feature "The Awakening," with those royal favorites Anita Stewart and Earle Williams as the stars. Something exceptionally good, so don't forget it on Saturday.

"Ought In A Canbarel" With Charles Chaplin, Columbia Tonight

Tonight is "Clayton" night at the Columbia, and if you enjoy a good hearty laugh, you can't afford to miss seeing this funniest man in pictures, in "Clayton in A Canbarel," a two-reel comedy picture with a laugh in every foot of film. Other pictures will also be shown today in addition to the Chaplin two-reel picture.

"Clutching Hand" At Temple Tonight.

At the Temple theatre tonight the "Exploits of Elaine," fourteenth episode, in which the identity of the "Clutching Hand" is disclosed will be shown. For many weeks this gruesome hand has been the subject of thrilling interest, and the "Exploits of Elaine" have drawn crowded houses to the Temple, and all will be interested in finding out about this mysterious hand. Come and see this great picture. Also tonight a two reel feature, "The Power in the Street." It is a powerful Domino tragedy.

Real Fun Night At Arcana Theatre

A two reel screen entitled "Under the Table," featuring Hank Mann, Gertrude Selby and Reggie Morris, will be the headliner at the Arcana theatre tonight. This fun riot, 2000 feet long, is guaranteed to be one of the greatest screen hits that ever hit Portsmouth. In fact it is a real, regular, romantic riot of fun—the kind that is wholesome, clean and real. Don't fail to see this big spasm of rib-tickling hilarity at the Arcana tonight. Manager Potts is authority for the statement that "Under the Table" is the biggest fun feature ever exhibited at his theatre. In addition to the comedy, Manager Potts offers his patrons a one reel Universal drama entitled, "When The Spider Tore Loose." This feature is high class in every particular. Remember, tomorrow night the Arcana will show the 35th episode of "The Master Key." Only 5 cents.

At The Pastime

"Tricked" is a two reel Domino drama that is the striking head-

EIGHTH GRADE COMMENCEMENT A BIG SUCCESS

A Pretty Scene Is Witnessed At High School Auditorium

Elaborate exercises marked the first commencement of the elementary schools of the city of Portsmouth held Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the high school. The large auditorium and balcony were filled to overflowing with parents and friends of the 131 graduates who leave the elementary field to take up a work in the high school. No prettier sight was ever presented than when the heavy curtains were drawn aside. Seated in a tier of five rows deep were the 131 girls and boys. It was a spectacle to be proud of and with the impressive exercises will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to attend.

The girls were dressed in white sailor suits with large scarlet ties and hair ribbons. The colors chosen for the occasion were scarlet and green and they were displayed in profusion. A bower of green ferns and palms intermingled with red rambler roses were used as the decorations for the front of the stage.

Mary Rudy was accompanist for the three songs sung by the graduates and her efforts were loudly applauded. Miss Rudy is a pupil of eighth grade B, Union street and was not one of the graduating class. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rudy of Third street. Her playing was easily one of the features of the evening.

Miss Harriett Scott, musical directress of the schools, had charge of the music during the program. It was through her work that the 131 pupils rendered the three songs in such a delightful manner.

The addresses of Rev. J. W. Dunning and Superintendent Frank Appel were filled with words of courage and advice to the young pupils who will begin their high school career in September.

Rev. W. T. Gilliland, pastor of the church which opened the new epoch in the city's history of school work by giving the invocation which was a very appealing one to the students. He gave thanks for the great American free public school system that makes possible the splendid education that is given the youth of today.

Rev. Dunning gives a splendid address. Rev. J. W. Dunning chosen as the commencement speaker, was then introduced to the audience by Superintendent Frank Appel. The pastor of the First Presbyterian church chose as his subject "Striking the Upward Trail," a subject that was an ideal one for the youthful the most important events in the life of our city, and it is quite right that it should be, for the step from school training to world training is a most important one. But another milestone along the highway of school life has been overlooked, heretofore—the one that marks the close of elementary school life.

"These diplomas which I am about to present to you are accompanied by our good wishes and earnest desire that you may be worth while in the high school and that your training here may develop the very best that is in you."

"Long Live America," "Hallelujah chorus from Handel's Messiah," and "Breathe Soft, Ye Winds," were the three songs rendered by the graduates.

Rev. W. T. Gilliland gave the benediction.

As the pupils came forward to receive their certificates they were loudly applauded. The eighth grade teachers are Miss Clara Simpson, Miss Anna Burriss, Miss Carrie Zottmann and Mrs. Pauline McKeown.

The graduates are: Virginia Lewis Alger, William Allen, Ralph Franklin Anson, Homer Earl Backus, Charles M. Bagges, Ralph Baker, Ruth L. Baker, Margaret May Beck, E. May Brock, Roy Blum, Jennie Susana Brock, Edith Catherine Brooke, Mildred Hazel Brown, Henrietta Mae Brown, Mary Louise Burke, Mary D. Superintendent Appel then delivered a short talk on the new idea, that of having an elementary commencement. The decided success of the city's first eighth grade commencement means that it will be an annual affair.

To the 131 young pupils he said: "The blessings of the people of the community rests upon you and your future career will be watched with great interest." He told of the large number of pupils who were of the same age as the graduates and why they were not graduating at the same time.

There are 650 pupils in the schools of eighth grade of graduating age but through failure caused by neglect or by force of circumstances they are scattered about in the other lower grades.

In the afternoon the 131 graduates faithfully pronounced Mr. Appel that they would be the best and biggest class to graduate from Portsmouth high school.

The Freshmen class in September will be increased from 131 to about 175, the other additional pupils being those left back this year and the pupils who come in from the rural districts. He had asked the class to choose a motto which they promised to do before the end of the week. He also asked that the parents co-operate with the teachers in helping the pupils keep their promise that they would be the biggest class to graduate from P. H. S. In closing he asked the graduates to remember:

"The day is THIS; the time is now; No better hour was ever here, Who waits upon the when and how Remains forever in the rear. Though yesterday was wasted stuff, Your feet may still seek out the way. Tomorrow is not soon enough, Make this the day."

Mrs. McKeown Presents Diplomas

Mrs. Pauline A. McKeown, principal of the Union street school, who presented the certificates of promotion to the audience by Superintendent Appel. Mrs. McKeown was chosen to make the address of presentation on account of her seniority as a teacher. She said: "For many years the high school commencements has been one of

SET HIS OWN SHOULDER

Last Monday Albert Pyles, well known West Side farmer fell from a haymow and dislocated his right shoulder. Instead of summoning a physician as most people would have done under the circumstances Mr. Pyles secured a hitching strap, tied one end of it to a ladder and wrapped the other end across his shoulder. Then he gave his shoulder a sudden jerk and presto, the shoulder slipped back into its normal position.

It was a painful ordeal, Mr. Pyles admitted while in the city Wednesday, but it worked out very satisfactorily. He is carrying his arm in a sling in order to rest the injured shoulder as much as possible.

Plan To Create National Holiday For "Living" G. A. R.

A majority representation of the committees that had executive charge of the big patriotic meeting at the high school auditorium on the evening of May 21, to do honor to the living members of that grand Army of Blue just before the time set by national holiday to honor their illustrious dead, held a meeting at the home of Harry M. Siskles of Seventh and Gay, Tuesday evening to audit bills and close up the business feature of the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Harry W. Matthiott and Charles C. Bennett, who was secretary of the joint committee of Sons of Veterans, Spanish American War Veterans and Jr. O. U. A. M. was secretary of the meeting last evening, and the business feature was attended to with despatch. If there are any bills outstanding they will be paid at once, the three lodges having shared jointly in the expense of the meeting.

The committees of the several lodges, Gilbert P. Dodds, Chas. C. Bennett and Harry M. Siskles of the Sons of Veterans; Harry W. Matthiott, Geo. S. Carroll and E. W. Hinks of the Spanish American War Veterans; W. F. Boyles, K. N. DeLong and Irwin Bowers of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and their several lodges, wish to express their sincere appreciation to all those who helped to make the meeting the grand success it was, especially do they tender thanks to the automobile owners who generously tendered their cars for the great parade, the band boys, the marching orders, the speakers and last but by no means least, the daily papers.

A movement has been started to make this occasion a national holiday and call it G. A. R. Day to come each year just before Decoration Day. Standing committees will be named by the different orders participating and they will begin preparations weeks ahead to make next year's event the greatest ever held in Ohio.

"Beauties" Coming

The first of a series of films to be shown at the Columbia theatre in the Ohio Beautiful Women's Contest will be thrown on the screen at the Columbia next Saturday night and thereafter one of these films will be shown every Monday and Saturday nights for a few weeks. There will be 50 candidates to vote on each week and the beauty contest in which Ohio's most beautiful women are to figure conspicuously in will no doubt attract large crowds to the popular Columbia.

Lawrence Johnson Is In Limelight Again

Lawrence Johnson, an East End youth, who caused quite a commotion when he was arrested at the Charles Zeigler cafe Tuesday evening by his threats against police officers, was very penitent in police court Wednesday morning.

Johnson was at a loss to understand why he had been arrested and seemed to think police had a grudge against him. He was informed that one Earl Smith had declared his intention of filing an affidavit against him charging him with holding him up and robbing him of $5, but inasmuch as he failed to appear there was no other alternative save to dismiss him. Johnson was warned, however, to be more guarded in his language and conduct toward police officers in the future.

"Pison Bill" Kennedy and a man giving the name of George Johnson who was arrested by Officer Mason, were each fined $5 for drunkenness. "Catsy" Sly, who was locked up by Officer Linck Tuesday night, will be taken to the Cincinnati workhouse Wednesday morning.

Mayor Frick Makes Formal Announcement

Mayor Adam Frick has formally announced his candidacy for reelection as mayor in the following letter addressed to the Democratic executive committee:

Permission. "In acquiescing to the pleadings of those who believe that my tenure in office should extend to complete the work of the city in process as well as undertake the proposals now in contemplation: THE WATER WORKS; THE HILLTOP SEWERAGE; THE FLOOD WALL, the wishes of my family; the care of my private interests are temporarily set at rest in behalf of civic duty and submit to go before the primaries upon the record of my accomplishment, granting to citizens the opportunity of approving or disapproving my administration. "Respectfully submitted, ADAM FRICK, Mayor. Portsmouth, Ohio, June 3d, 1915."

Rev. Marling also announces a little innovation in the religious service preceding the election. It is to be a real time "Prayer Service." Every one is coming and will bring a prayer and a prayerful heart along.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption That the Deficient Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. But if the cause is not in organic constitution it is difficult to suppose that the lime can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Bismarck's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the body.

Do not miss this lime, so safe and sure with the results obtained in many cases of three ailments, which appear to have yielded to Bismarck's Alternative.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."
No truer words were ever penned, and the thought has had no more vivid emphasis in Portsmouth of late than in the cruel fate which overtook those three little lads who venturesomely started forth from the Children's Home to buffet with the world and to enjoy the wonders and delights conjured up in their childish minds, only to die in the murky waters of the Scioto river.

Deprived of parents' care, unknown to practically every resident of the city, yet the death of those little wanderers brought tears to the eyes of all.

It was so pathetic!
Just a little ravine whose placid exterior revealed not the trap of death, and which to the boys undoubtedly seemed a mere ditch, but in reality was of such a depth and whose banks were of such a nature that once within its grasp only a swimmer had a chance for life.

The imagination can picture the children pausing on the bank, perhaps an eager debate as how to cross this obstacle to flight to the land where "milk and honey flowed," and then the partial disrobing and timid steps into the water. Then the sudden plunge from the treacherous bank, childish cries of terror unheard by any on earth, the pitiful tossing of hands grasping vainly for succor, and the final descent into the mud and silt of the river bed, where at least one of the victims, from the position in which his body was found, renewed his struggle for life, vainly trying to crawl on the oozy bottom to safety.

Yes, it is sad. But what are you going to do about it? Will you tears for the dead close the incident?

Or will the tragedy bring to your mind the thought there are other little tots in the "Home" and elsewhere, whom possibly you might help to cheer, for whom you might do something to aid them in preparing for the battles of life. The probability is that if you look about you some such case will present itself. It is up to each of you whether the tragedy of those three little boys really means more than a passing twinge of anguish.

PUSH RIGHT AHEAD.

The propositions to extend the flood wall and pave the east end of Front street do not appear to be making such headway as would indicate to any certainty the beginning of active operations this year. Delay beyond this year, especially with the wall would be a matter much to be regretted, not possibly for the mere loss of a few months, but because it may mean the putting to sleep of the improvement for an indefinite period. The present council is favorably disposed to the project, but it will go out with the dawn of 1916 and there is no foretelling as to the policy its successor may pursue.

If the dwellers in the lowly lying districts appreciate the full importance of flood wall protection they will redouble their efforts to have council pass the necessary legislation and have all the details of the extension completed and even the contract let before members of a friendly council may find itself out of position where they can be of any service in advancing the undertaking.

In other words, the time to secure protection is right now and the sooner the better.

SENSIBLE AND CORRECT.

A Columbus jury has awarded a motorman a verdict of $85 damages against 19 of his fellow employees. The circumstances are the motorman got married, the other day, and "went to live in a cozy little cottage he had furnished against the coming of his charming bride." There a number of other street railway people pursued him at night and gave the couple a belling. They had "just lots of fun" tossing the furniture about and sprinkling cement over the floors. In court they all insisted they didn't mean any harm, but the judge said it was no joke to break and injure another's property, no matter what hilarity it might afford the jokers. The jury took the same sensible and correct view, hence its verdict.

No use talking, you can't stop the onward march of the Pre-lens. Note that new door in the Chinese laundry.

THE AMERICAN GIBRALTAR.

ANOTHER LITTLE SERMON.

"We hear a great deal about 'efficiency,'" says a western editor, "usually in connection with business. The word also has a very important application in your personal affairs. Are you efficient when you meet strangers? Can you leave a good impression with them? Are you an efficient talker? One of the most delightful and pleasant arts is ability to talk intelligently and agreeably. Are you an efficient husband and father? Are you able to command the respect of your wife and children? Are you an efficient animal? Do you get the best results from the food you eat? How do you stand in the neighborhood in which you live? Are you efficient as a neighbor, or do people wish you would move?"

Wouldn't it be fine if a fellow could truthfully answer all these questions? Or, if we were so absolutely sincere with ourselves as to tell ourselves the truth; if we would study our own characteristics as we study the characteristics of others; if we would be as frank with ourselves as we are when discussing other people—wouldn't the answer to some of those questions tend to make us change our ways?—Dayton News.

YOUR MOTHER.

"Your mother's life has not been easy. Your father was a poor man, and from the day she married him she stood by his side, fighting as a woman must fight. She worked, not the eight or ten-hour day of the man, but the twenty-four hour day of the poor wife and mother. She cooked and cleaned and scrubbed and patched and nursed from dawn until bedtime, and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers, listening for croupy coughs. She had time to listen to your stories of run and frolic and triumph. She had time to say the things that spurred your ambition on. She never forgot to cook the little dishes you liked. She did without the dress she needed that you might not be ashamed of your clothes before your companions. Remember this now while there is yet time, while she is yet living, to pay back to her in love and tenderness some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it all."—Ex.

The East Liverpool Tribune says the people demand the Cox machine shall be broken up and the only way to do this is by removing its cogs from the political offices. To be sure, and see a free and independent administration is had by replacing them with good men and true, who will do any thing our good young Governor tells them to do and strive their little best to keep their party in power and themselves in jobs.

The spasm our good young Governor was throwing about Cincinnati dropping behind somewhere around fifty millions on its assessment tith seems to have passed its most violent stage.

A Cleveland paper oracularly observes there are worse things than war and prudently stops right there.

THE VOICE IS DUMB.

This week candidates for city offices must file their position. It is a reminder that about a year ago a certain distinguished gentleman made the observation that it was taking a Democratic administration two years to complete 16 per cent of a water works plant that a Republican administration had completed 84 per cent of in the same length of time. He isn't saying a word right now. He knows along with every one else how the city would have been milked to the tune of a $100,000 or more, and had a plant broken down before it really began to run had the same fellows who saw "the work 84 per cent complete" been left to accept it.

Yes, the commission form and the recall are a most delightful combination. Charleston got one, this winter, with a new charter, held an election about a month ago and already movement is afoot to recall most of the new government. And we again rise to remark that no mere form and no potent device makes a good government. You've just got to elect the right sort of men to get that.

And just to think with all these patriots rushing in petitions, declaring their earnest desire to serve the dear and helpless public, some voters are going to measure them not upon their fitness at all, but upon where their sympathies are supposed to be in the European war.

With the report that our good young Governor is going to devote now all his vast energy to the cutting and distribution of the pie there are signs of awakening activity and uneasiness among the local pie-hunting brigade.

A Chinese student, proudly claiming to be a descendant of Confucius, was graduated from Cornell, last week. It would be more interesting to know if the great philosopher has any pride in his two thousand times great grandson.

Great Britain is turning out two new battleships every week. What she had better do is to turn down a submarine every once in a while.

How unevenly things are distributed: In the Times of Portsmouth, N. H., of June 5th, we find this editorial paragraph: "We certainly do need ruin, and plenty of it."

Perish the thought that Victoriana Thuerin sought refuge here to keep from being run over by the water wagon that is running all over Europe.

These rains couldn't come any more opportunely even if we ordered them ourselves.

New York, June 9.—Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the famous financier, has thrown down the gauntlet to the hordes of Broadway tango investigators and uplifters who have cast reflections upon the Strand Roof Garden. She denies heatedly that the garden closed because the various uplifters turned cold shoulders upon it.

On account of the criticisms that Miss Morgan has received because of her connection with the dancing place which was aimed to give a wholesome atmosphere to the night life of Broadway, the heiress is very much peeved.

"Every kind of uplift society you can mention," she says, "asks me for money. Well—they will wait a long time before they get any more from me."

Mrs. Tom Thumb has succumbed to the lure of the film. She has been engaged with Will Archie to picture plays to be produced by a company of Lilliputians. Archie has called the company the "Pee-wee Troup."

Wall Street stenographers—who are about the loveliest in the town—have a real mystery. One of the stenographers in the "street" received the dictation from her employer closing a large deal. He signed it, enclosed it in an envelope and sealed it, but he did not wish to send it until other transactions pending were settled.

He handed the letter to his stenographer, instructing her to hold it ready to mail whenever he told her, telephoned her or telegraphed her. She called his attention to it several times and he told her to hold it a little longer and finally the document got on her nerves. Ten days later as her employer was leaving she asked him again about the letter.

"Oh—let it go," he answered.

Covered over with honest scales, Caught by McCann, what more could one wish? Fish of the evening, beautiful fish!

Haddock and fluke are all the rage. Boating the way to the Globe's first page. Only a nickel from dealer to dish. Fish of the evening, beautiful fish.

That sound of wailing and weeping—it is a New York paragrapher speaking—is the Hon. Bill Barnes reading the sad headline: Roosevelt Cracks a Rib!

It is quite unusual for newspapers in the metropolis to get out extras over such a trivial incident as the filing of a will in these war times. But several New York newspapers did when the Alfred G. Vanderbilt will was filed. It is a monumental piece of news to old New Yorkers to know what their first families did with their money—who was left out in the cold and the like.

Incidentally the Vanderbilt will was considered a model document.

Watch the Corners

When you wake up in the morning of a chill and cheerless day, And feel inclined to grumble, pout or frown, Just glance into your mirror and you will quickly see It's just because the corners of your month turn down. Then take this simple rhyme, Remember it in time: It's always dreary weather in countryside or town. When you wake and find the corners of your month turned down.

If you wake up in the morning full of bright and happy thoughts And begin to count the blessings in your cup, Then glance into your mirror and you will quickly see It's all because the corners of your month turn up. Then take this simple rhyme, Remember all the time: There's joy a-plenty in this world to fill life's silver cup. If you'll only keep the corners of your month turned up.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, June 9.—Secretary Bryan's resignation created some uneasiness at the opening of today's session on the stock exchange. Initial declines ranged from 1 to 5 points, with pronounced weakness in war shares and other specialties coming within that classification.

Dealings gave promise of rising to a large total, but bore no indications of liquidation. United States Steel was the only stock to be offered in large amounts, initial sales aggregating 7,500 shares at a loss of 1 1/2.

Further recovery was made with the progress of the session some high priced shares gaining 1 1/2 to 3 points over yesterday's close. Bethlehem Steel resumed its leadership, advancing almost 9 points to 108, or 3 points above its previous high recovery. As prices rebounded trading became dull, with 200,000 share turn over the first hour falling to about half that amount between 11 and 12 o'clock. War stocks showed a tendency to make general recoveries and coppers manifested greater strength on a twenty cent quotation for the metal, although amalgamated reflected selling pressure. A moderate reaction set in before noon. Bonds were firm.

OFFICIAL RESIGNATION AND ACCEPTANCE

Secretary Bryan's letter of resignation was as follows:

My Dear Mr. President:

It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of Secretary of State, with which you honored me at the beginning of your administration.

Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives, you have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country, and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war.

I therefore, respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. Alike, desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen, we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed.

It falls to your lot to speak officially for the nation; I consider it to be none the less my duty as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use.

In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the past two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the state department, and to thank you for the courtesies extended.

With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare, and for the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President,

Very truly yours,

W. J. BRYAN

"Washington, June 8, 1915."

The president's letter to Mr. Bryan was as follows:

My Dear Mr. Bryan:

I accept your resignation only because you insist upon its acceptance; and I accept it with much more than deep regret, with a feeling of personal sorrow. Our two years of close association have been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and of public policy until now; your support of the work and purposes of the administration has been generous and loyal beyond praise; your devotion to the duties of your great office and your eagerness to take advantage of every great opportunity for service it offered, has been an example to the rest of us, you have earned our affectionate admiration and friendship. Even now, we are not separated in the object we seek but only in the method by which we seek it.

It is for these reasons a my feeling about your retirement from the secretaryship of state goes so much deeper than regret. I sincerely deplore it. Our objects are the same and we ought to pursue them together. I yield to your desire only because I must, and wish to bid you Godspeed in the parting. We shall continue to work for the same cause even when we do not work in the same way.

With affectionate regard, sincerely yours,

BILL KEPT LONELY VIGIL WHILE POLICE ENJOYED ONE BIG LAUGH

Tuesday night as a squad of police were starting out on a few hundred yards to keep a lookout while they went to searching. As soon as Bill got out of sight the party of officers looked for the railroad and sent the patrol back to town. The police tramped in, making a thorough search, but failed to find any clue to their man. Patterson remained on guard at a lonely spot on Rosemont Road until four o'clock this morning when he awoke to the situation and walked into town.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mild coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly, and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mild coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

It's almost a man's duty as an educational process, to take his family, while the railroad fares to California have been cut in two, and visit the great Expositions at San Francisco and San Diego; seeing on the way out the marvelous Mountain Scenery of Colorado, the stupendous and world-famous Royal Gorge, and Salt Lake City. Then you should return by way of the North Pacific Coast and visit Glacier or Yellowstone National Park. You will never have the same opportunity and if you use the through Pullman service of the Burlington Route (C. & N. & P. R. Don't forget that. Here's the best. Sit right down and write me how many expect to make the trip just when you want to go, the points you want to visit, how long you expect to stay, and I will plan a trip especially fitted to your time and needs—then you will know all about it. ## CABINET APPROVES ACTION

From Saturday to Monday—the President and Mr. Bryan's resignation under consideration. Secretary Bryan did not go to yesterday's cabinet meeting. The president had invited him to attend after letting the cabinet know of the situation. Quietly the consideration of the note continued and at the end of the meeting the president and the remaining members of the cabinet expressed to Mr. Bryan their sense of personal regret. The closest personal relationship of Mr. Bryan and the president will be reflected in the former secretary's future course, it was learned today authoritatively.

Will Continue Support

Mr. Bryan intends to continue a staunch political support of Mr. Wilson on domestic affairs, and believes he can even assist him in the sentiment he hopes to build up for the people of investigation of disputes before hostilities are begun. It was this idea which he embodied in thirty peace treaties negotiated by Mr. Bryan with the principal nations of the world—all but Germany, Austria and Belgium and Japan, the first three of which had accepted the principle.

Late today, after the note to Germany is on its way to Berlin, Mr. Bryan plans to issue from his home a statement outlining his position on the question that has arisen on the relations between the United States and Germany.

Mr. Bryan contends it would be better to submit the entire question to an investigating committee and pending its deliberations have Americans refrain from taking passage on ships carrying contraband or which venture into baring zones on the high seas. President Wilson is said to have been opposed to that idea, not only because he believed the United States in effect, would thereby be yielding its rights under international law, but because there was no guaranty that lawful American commerce would be free from dangers during this discussion.

Will Assist Wilson

That these principles are not of sufficient strength in American public opinion for the Washington government to commit itself so firm a policy as might result in war, is the conviction of Mr. Bryan and he hopes to test public sentiment in a way that will assist the president as the American government's policy is developed.

Mr. Bryan in taking leave of state department employees told them the "rewards of life are not to be found either in the money we make or in the honors we enjoy." "The real honors are of actions we feel for each other," he said.

"The best reward is appreciation accompanied by good will. In leaving you I want to assure you, without reference to distinction for position you occupy, of my appreciation of your cooperation and devotion to duty and that my good will follows you wherever you may be. If I can go out feeling that your good will goes with me it will be a precious memory."

Promptly at 12:30 o'clock Mr. Bryan left the state department and went to be White House, where President Wilson received him.

For fifteen minutes the president and Mr. Bryan talked exchanging words of farewell. The secretary was making his last official call on the president but nevertheless the personal element was present. Cordially and without any trace of feeling, the two men talked of the situation which resulted in Mr. Bryan's resignation. Each spoke dispassionately of the differences. "Those who saw them were touched with the regard the two men displayed for each other."

"God Bless You, Goodbye." Finally Mr. Bryan remarked that he knew the president was a busy man and he would not detain him longer. The two men who have stood together during the last two years in one crisis after another, rose to their feet, stood a moment, and clasped hands.

"God bless you," said each as their hands parted.

Secretary Bryan confided to friends today that he slept all night last night for the first time in months. Reports that Secretary Daniels had resigned or would do so were current today but were flatly denied on all sides. As a matter of fact, nine members of the cabinet stood solidly for the president's opinion as expressed in the note. Mr. Daniels was with those who differed with the secretary of state. Some members even advised a stronger phraseology than the president had used but on the final discussion the decision to send the note was unanimous. There was a well defined trend of opinion in official quarters that the resignation of Mr. Bryan would go far in impressing Germany with the earnest intention of the United States to insist on its rights. It is understood that the United States has, from time to time, received authoritative information that high German officials believed the administration was committed to a policy of uninterrupted peace and did not intend at any time or under any circumstances to go to war. Mr. Bryan's resignation, many officials thought, would remove all doubts in Berlin and if Germany were sincerely desirous of averting war would arrange for a way out of the problem that has arisen which could honorably be accepted by the United States.

The view that Mr. Bryan's action might favorably influence the situation was shared by some of his closest friends.

BRYAN EXPLAINS FRICTION

of every character and nature.

"These treaties, negotiated under this administration make war practically impossible between this country and these governments representing nearly three-fourths of all the people of the world."

"Among the nations with which we have these treaties are Great Britain, France and Russia. No matter what disputes may arise between us and these treaty nations, we agree there shall be no declaration and no commencement of hostilities until the matters in dispute have been investigated by an international commission and time is allowed for investigation and report. This plan was submitted to all nations and Germany was one of the nations to accept the principle, being the twelfth to accept it. The treaty was not actually entered into with Germany, but I cannot see that that should stand in the way when both nations endorsed the principle. I do not know whether Germany would accept the offer, but our country should, in my judgment, make the offer."

Would Relieve Tension

"Such an offer, if accepted, would at once relieve the tension and silence all the jingoisms who are demanding war. Germany has always been a friendly nation and a great many of our people are of German ancestry. Why should we not deal with Germany according to this plan to which the nation pledged its support?"

"The second point of difference is as to which course should be pursued in regard to Americans traveling on belligerent ships or with cargoes of ammunition. 'Why should an American citizen be permitted to involve his country in war by traveling upon a belligerent ship when he knows that the ship will pass through a danger zone? The question is not whether an American citizen has a right under international law to travel on a belligerent ship; the question is whether he ought not, out of consideration for his country, if not for his own safety, avoid danger when avoidance is possible.'

Should Stop Travelers

"It is a very, very one sided citizenship that compels a government to go to war over a citizen's rights and yet relieve the citizen of all obligations to consider his nation's welfare. I do not know just how far the president can legally go in actually preventing Americans from traveling on belligerent ships, but I believe the government should go as far as it can, and that in case of doubt, it should give the benefit of the doubt to the government."

"But even if the government could not legally prevent citizens from traveling on belligerent ships, it could, and in my judgment, should, earnestly advise American citizens not to risk themselves or the peace of their country and I have no doubt that these warnings would be heeded. 'President Taft advised Americans to leave Mexico when insurrection broke out there and President Wilson has repeated the advice. This advice in my judgment was eminently wise and I think the same course should be followed in regard to warning Americans to keep off vessels subject to attack.'

Halt Arms Cargoes

"I think too, that American passenger ships should be prohibited from carrying ammunition. The lives of passengers ought not to be endangered by cargoes of ammunition, whether the danger comes from possible explosions within or from attacks from without. Passengers and ammunition should not travel together and to prevent American citizens from incurring these risks is entirely consistent with the effort which our government is making to prevent attacks from submarines."

"The use of one remedy does not exclude the use of the other. The most familiar illustration is to be found in the action taken by municipal authorities during a riot. It is the duty of the mayor to suppress the mob and to prevent violence but he does not hesitate to warn citizens to keep off the streets during the riots. He does not question their right to use the streets, but for their own protection and in the interests of order he warns them not to incur the risks involved in going upon the streets when men are shooting at each other.

"The president does not feel justified in taking this action above stated, that is, he does not feel justified first, in suggesting the submission of the controversy to investigation, or second, in warning the people not to incur the hazards in traveling on belligerent ships or on ships carrying ammunition. And he may be right in the position he has taken, but as a private citizen, I am free to urge both of these propositions and to call public attention to these remedies, in the hope of securing an expression of public sentiment as will support the president in employing these remedies, if in the future, he finds it consistent with his sense of duty to favor them."

Secretary Bryan said, in giving out his statement that while it mentioned only two points of difference, he reserved others for presentation in the future.

TWO OF DROWNED BOYS NOW REST IN GRAVE

Brief but impressive were the services conducted by Rev. J. E. Dierker when all that was mortal of little Albert Hoover and Edward Covert, two of the orphan boys drowned in a recently swollen slough near the Scioto river, were lowered into graves in the children's home section of Greenwood cemetery Wednesday morning.

Fellow inmates of the unfortunate lads were bitterly during the services which were attended by the immediate relatives, Clyde Covert, an eight year old brother of Edward Covert, was among those present. He, too, is an inmate of the home.

The body of Marion Timberlake, aged 15 years, the eldest of the three boys, was removed by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Timberlake, to Siloam, Ky., for burial. The boy's 13-year-old sister Bertha, was granted leave of absence from the children's home that she might attend the funeral.

Hornung Will

The will of the late J. Wesley Hornung, of this city, was filed for probate Wednesday morning. All of his property, both real and personal, is bequeathed to his widow, Scioto V. Hornung, so long as she remains a widow, to be used as she sees fit. In the event of her remarriage, she is to receive one-third of the estate, and the other two-thirds are to be divided equally between the two children, Raymond (Henry) and Louise. She is also named as executrix, to serve without bond.

Cramps and Backache ?

"I suffered from many pains for four years," says Mrs. Della Gates, of Cobden, Ill. "I was tired and worn out and had the blues. The doctors said I had womanly troubles, but it seemed they could do me no good. I was advised to take CARDUI, and can say after taking a bottle, that I just feel fine. It relieved me from pain, and cured my cramping and backache. I can certainly recommend it." Thousands of women who now suffer from womanly troubles might be relieved if they would follow Mrs. Gates' example. Are you one of these? If you need a good strengthening tonic we recommend that you

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, slights, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60. Residence A-592.

Miss Dolly Wise—To whom should I write to locate a man in the regular army of U. S.? The name is the only information I have.

Write to the war department, Washington, D. C., or to Lindsey M. Garrison, Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

Dear Dolly—Do you know of anything that will take a perfume stain out of a blue linen dress?

Chloroform or ether will take the spot out unless the perfume faded the dress. Nothing will remove the color, unless you have the whole dress dyed.

Dear Dolly—Why is red used as a danger signal instead of green, blue or yellow?

Red is used because it can be seen farther than any other color. Red, no matter how distant, never ceases to look red. This is not true of any other color. Yellow light is visible much farther than the distance at which its color can be distinguished. Yellow light, a pale bluish white, has come into use as a "clear" indication for switches on many railroads. It can be recognized at a greater distance than yellow, and is not so easily mistaken for neighborhood lights.

Dear Dolly—How late should a couple of girls stay out at the park? We are 16 and 17.

Girls of your age should not go to the park unaccompanied. Even then you should be home by 9:30 or ten o'clock at the very latest.

Miss Dolly Wise—I have come to you for advice as I think you have helped lots of people. Do you think it would be such an awful sin if a man would go down to the river, and drop in, if by so doing it would help his family to live a couple of years? I have been out of work for six months. Am handy with most kinds of Persistent massage will remove wrinkles, but they will soon return unless you stop squinting and wrinkling your forehead.

Dear Miss Wise—What is the proper way of thanking anyone for a gift that has been received through the mail and you wish to thank through the same?

Just write a little note, thanking the donor for the gift, adding of course that it is very pretty and greatly appreciated.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know of some good perfume to put in boxes of goods that are packed away. Will orris root alone do the work?

Orris root gives off a faint, delicate odor that is very pleasant and is sufficient in itself to scent garments that are laid away, provided enough of it is used.

Dear Dolly—Please print a recipe for cherry ice cream.

One box of gelatine dissolved in one quart of hot milk, strain and add 2 pounds of sugar, yolk of 6 eggs well beaten, heat eggs, gelatine, and sugar until eggs are cooked. Add 2 quarts of cold milk, one quart sweet cream, whites of 6 eggs well beaten, flavor with cherry and freeze. The seeded cherries may be added before freezing or they can be put on the plate whole with cream when it is served.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me of anything that will remove wrinkles? I have several big ones on my forehead.

A SPINSTER.

Manager Josh Devore is turning up perfectly good and spend money to get a new player or two and when he does he is going have a real ball club. He expects to get back in the game in a few days himself and will drive in flock of runs. He was ready to go Tuesday, but hurt his knee and was forced to delay his return to the pasture.

A baseball team composed of young men who are attending the new school at Wheelersburg played the Wheelersburg team Tuesday afternoon and went down to defeat by the score of 10 to 15. Swift's swift ones were at all corners of the field but the normal players and Prof. Crook's "curse" were also hit frequently.

Following were the lineups: N. C. James c; Cronier p, Turney ss, V. H. Honey 2b, Preston 3b, Smith 1b, and cf; Wheelersburg—Swift, p; Collins cf; W. Bussard 1b, Gluts 2b, J. H. Smith 3b, H. H. Hunseler 2b, P. T. Bussard 1b, D. H. Duld ss, Burko c.

No matter whether you pack your old jimmy pipe brimful or roll a makin's cigarette, Prince Albert certainly will make you feel like a two-year-old on the tobacco question just as soon as you hitch it up to a match. And that's a fact!

You can't anymore tell how good P. A. is just from talking about it than you can judge the depth of a well from the length of its pump handle. You get personal information dug right out of a tidy red tin or toppy red bag quicker as you can conveniently beat it to the nearest shop that sells tobacco!

No matter how much you think you can't smoke a pipe, or roll a makin's cigarette, no matter how much you can have been tongue-scorched, you can smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette if you'll take a few grains of faith and believe in Prince Albert. It can't bite your tongue and can't parch your throat, because the bite and the parch are cut out by a patented process owned exclusively by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

No other tobacco can be like Prince Albert. You'll get the quick cue on that!

City's Needs As To Sewerage Are Discussed By Engineer

The future needs of Portsmouth in the way of a complete sewerage system and some idea as to how the city should proceed in that direction were informally discussed by W. H. Dittoe, of Columbus, chief engineer of the state board of health, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Dittoe at first emphasized the fact that his single day's observations were not sufficient to thoroughly familiarize himself with local conditions, that all that had been done was simply preliminary and that the project had not been presented to the state board in a final form, so that what he had to say was purely informal. He also made it clear when pressed for advice as to what steps the city should take towards meeting the state board's requirements that this body always carefully refrains from recommending to any city one plan as preferable to another, for by so doing it would place itself in the position of advisory engineers. It remains for cities to work out a solution of their sewer problems, and then when all plans are submitted and approval asked for, the board will pass upon them.

Mr. Dittoe says the various classes of sewers accepted are: First, storm or storm drain sewers, carrying surface water; second, strictly sanitary sewers carrying household wastes, etc.; combined storm and sanitary sewers, carrying both classes of waste.

Mr. Dittoe expressed the belief that there was no immediate requirement for Portsmouth to take up the treatment of sewerage, by either state or federal authorities. He said, however, that it was well to keep future requirements in this respect well in mind, for the time will come when all inland and seacoast cities will be required to make proper disposition of waste and that communities have no more right to permit nuisances than individuals, for they are simply an assembly of individuals.

The engineer said the Portsmouth conditions were new to him, and he therefore could not discuss them finally, but in his one day's visit he believed he had been able to examine every important sewer outlet. Below Lawson's Run, which is to be a part of the general sewerage plan, he found the Ohio river receives sewage from two principal outlets, the Scioto river from five and Lawson Run from some ten outlets. Brewery Hollow receives no sewerage except from private drains and has discharges from two storm sewers and the run draining the N. & W. Terminals has discharges from two sewers, which finally, by passing through a conduit under the N. & W. tracks, reach Lawson's Run.

He said Portsmouth had quite a scatter method which was due to topographical conditions and the result of efforts to provide for localities desiring sewerage and immediate relief. In the construction of sewers he said the ultimate demands of the city as a whole should always be borne in mind. No certain methods, he said, had been followed in Portsmouth, which built sewers as early as 1855, and that prior to 50 years ago the treatment of sewerage was an unknown art, and he therefore had no criticism to make. Some of those of recent construction, he said, met all requirements.

Mr. Dittoe said he did not have the time to inspect the territory sure to become a part of Portsmouth, which he felt certain would continue growing rapidly, and double its population within the next thirty years, but all bears upon the question of Lawson's Run. The project of providing sewerage for the northerly part of the city, or Hill-top district, needs immediate attention. The district contained a class of people desirous of sanitary conveniences, but similar regard should also be shown towards other residential portions.

He said the Hill-top storm sewer, recently constructed, were not being used to any great extent because the people there had been required to observe the purpose and not permitted to use them for sanitary drainage. He thought these might be utilized as combined storm and sanitary sewers until such time when proper outlets and a general sewer plan is provided to the Scioto river on the west and Lawson's run on the east. He said Lawson's Run in its present condition is very offensive and should be enclosed with a concrete conduit as contemplated practically its entire length, or to within 600 ft. of its mouth and at the terminal point of the proposed flood wall gate.

If kept in mind that proper disposal will be ultimately required, every attention should be given towards keeping separate sanitary sewerage from storm sewerage because of the greater cost of treating them when combined. He said, owing to the possible remoteness of the time when proper disposal will be insisted upon, that it might be the thing to do to use the proposed conduit as a combination sewer until the actual requirement is enforced when it would become necessary to build another sewer running parallel with the other. He suggested careful survey and study conditions, spoke of how other cities in recent years had taken up the sewerage problem in their everlasting benefit. That Portsmouth had conditions that should be corrected and that the success of every city depended largely upon its sewerage construction.

He felt it proper to use the Robinson avenue sewer as a combined sewer, but felt perhaps traps would be needed to safeguard against offensive odors. Lawson's Run, alone, he said, is not a solution of Portsmouth's sewerage problem and that the broader proposition of taking care of the city as a whole and all future territory should be considered. New Boston officials attended the meeting by invitation.

As a result of Mr. Dittoe's visit and report Engineer George S. Wilhelm will at once prepare a map of that section west of Lincoln street between Robinson avenue and Twenty-first street showing the sewage from this section flowing into the Sixth ward sewer and submit it to the state board for approval. Installations can then be made after which a plan can be arranged to care for the sewer sections coming down Lawson's Run.

How to Get Fat and Be Strong

People who are below normal weight will be glad to learn that it is possible to put on even as much as thirty or forty pounds of good solid flesh if they will leave acid foods out of their diet, drink plenty of fresh water and get from any good draughts, Little Tablets in tablet form and take one tablet after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

It has recently been found that Vitamin has a marvelous effect in enabling thin people to extract the fat making elements from their food. It is also said that it has a wonderful effect in case of nervous exhaustion or where a person has become run down from overwork or illness. However, its fatness-influencing qualities are only where a person is very thin. Thousands of people will benefit through this discovery as thin people are generally very sensitive over their figure but now that it is so easy to put on good healthy flesh, we may soon expect to see many of our thin friends become nice and plump.

Will Hold Reception

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society and Sunday school class No. 7 of the Sciotoville Christian church have planned a reception for Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Bryant, and it will be held Thursday evening, June 10, in the Old Fellows' hall in Sciotoville. Rev. Bryant recently accepted a call to this church.

A short program will be rendered at the reception and every member of the church, Sunday school and Bible class are urged to attend the meeting, which will close with refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Scout Notes

The Scouts of the Second Presbyterian Troop met in the gymnasium of the church, and held a short meeting. On account of the graduation exercises of the eighth grade held at the high school last evening, the attendance was not as large as it was the week before, however, those who were on hand had a delightful time and certainly were well repaid for their trip to the meeting because, Mr. Harry Porter was there with an entirely new stunt which created much merriment among the boys. M. G. was at his best last night and when he gets to going just right, you must either laugh or burst.

Ridenour and Kinsey are both nudging hard to give the Second Presbyterian troop a boost in the right direction.

Officers Elected By Junior Club

Organization of the Junior Chautauqua Club at the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon was a huge success, over one hundred enthusiastic children participating. All of them evinced much interest in the election of officers, which resulted in the following being chosen: Garnet Flowers, president; Ruth Burton, secretary. Mrs. Grace Tatum entertained the children with song and stories. She was assisted by Mrs. C. W. Rowe, local supervisor of children's work.

Meetings of the club will be held every week until the Chautauqua opens. In the meantime, the children will be urged to go ahead with their stories to be submitted in competition for the prizes. Mrs. Rowe will supervise the weekly meeting.

Two Girls Are Cause Of The Arrest Of A Fortune Teller

That not only did their wishes fail to come true but that they were now minus the good money they paid out and their valuable rings besides was the plea put up by Misses Mabel Jackson and Helen Smith, two pretty young East End girls, who caused the arrest of Sarah Glenn, a licensed fortune teller of Gay and Mill streets Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Glenn was charged with fraudulently obtaining jewelry and refusing to surrender the same to the rightful owners. She pleaded not guilty.

The girls said that they had been visiting Mrs. Glenn twice weekly for the past four weeks. Miss Jackson had paid her $3 and the other girl had paid her about $1.50, they said. The woman, they said, had suggested to them that they make wishes for which she charged extra and upon her suggestion they left their rings for security of payment. The wishes did not turn out and Mrs. Glenn refused to return the rings.

Mrs. Glenn's defense was that she had paid out her hard earned money for a license and that so long as the girls still owed her she had a right to hold the rings and said she would stand a law suit to determine her rights. She claimed it was the girls' own suggestion that they be allowed to make wishes, one of them cutting cards in making a wish about a "purity on a journey" and said both had assured her that their wishes were turning out all right. She claimed Miss Jackson owed her $5 and the other girl $3. The court held it was unfortunate that people should allow themselves to believe that anyone and particularly the defendant was gifted with supernatural powers and said fortune telling was fraudulent and was licensed as a means of some protection to unsuspecting ones. Mrs. Glenn insisted that she could reveal the future and assumed a defiant attitude when given ten days time in which to restore the rings, declaring she would not do so until she had first received the balance of money due her.

After court the officials questioned whether they had the authority to take the rings from the woman but assured the girls that they would try their utmost. Miss Jackson resides at No. 1408 Eleventh street, and Miss Smith on Seventh street near Campbell avenue. They told the officials that Mrs. Glenn was preparing to leave the city.

Chief McCarty called on Mrs. Glenn at the direction of the court and threatened to revoke her license. This had the desired effect, she surrendering the rings which will be turned over to the girls.

HAVE FINE PROGRAM FOR THE ALUMNI BANQUET TERMINALS

This year's reunion and banquet of the Alumni Association of the Portsmouth High School, to be held Friday evening at the high school building, promises to eclipse all former meetings of the association, as the officers in charge of the arrangements have not left a single detail undone to make it a profitable and entertaining occasion.

Members of the graduating class of 1915 will be the guests of honor, and a number of them are down on the program during the evening.

The informal reception to the class of 1915 will begin at 6:45 o'clock and continue until 8 o'clock. At eight o'clock the business session of the association will open in the high school auditorium. Election of officers, reports of committees and appointment of new committees will comprise the burden of the business session.

At the conclusion of the business session the members will repair to the gymnasium room downstairs where the banquet will be served. Practical demonstration of the ordinary abilities of the members of the class in domestic science of the Portsmouth high school will be shown, as they will serve the banquet under the direction of their instructors, Miss Teresa Kennedy and Miss Lulu Summers.

Musical, wit and oratory will follow the feast of good things to eat. William J. Meyer, popular young local attorney, will officiate as toast-master. The welcome address to the class of 1915 will be delivered by the president of the association, Mrs. Lena Kline Reed. Robert Hays, president of the class of 1915, will respond on behalf of his class. Vaughn Finney, another member of the class, will respond to the toast, "Toast to Toasts." Other speakers will be August Skellon on "Class Spirit" and Sherman Johnson on "All the World Loves a Laver and a Graduate."

Special musical selections by Miss Margaret Quinn and Harold Walker of the class of 1915, pianists and Mrs. Charles E. Ward, violinist, will add pleasure to the evening's enjoyment.

Bode's orchestra will furnish music during the banquet.

His efforts saved Harrison from being roasted to death under the wrecked machine.

Harrison was well known in this city in railroad circles. He had a run that took him through the city several times each week and he stopped at the local Y. M. C. A. a number of times while laying over here waiting on his run. His numerous friends were shocked Wednesday when news of his death was flashed over the wire to the local division offices.

ASSESSORS WILL BE ELECTED THIS FALL

It has been discovered in an official communication from the state supervisor of elections that there will be no primary elections in the townships for township officers.

Any person may be nominated in the township for any office by securing a sufficient number of signers for their petition. These names of persons so nominated will be placed upon the official ballot in the November election without any party designation and the elector may choose from the list those for whom it desires to vote. The petitions do not have to be filed until sixty days before the election, which will be early in September. Township and ward assessors must be nominated in the county and city this fall also, and in Portsmouth these assessors are considered as municipal officers, so they come within the primary law and their time for filing petitions expires on June 10th.

Columbus, Ohio, June 9.—Don Harvey, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life in 1909 and who was given a commutation to ten years last January by Governor Cox left the penitentiary this morning on the expiration of his sentence. At the time of the murder he was 16 years old and his youth and excellent person prompted Governor Cox to grant him clemency.

Clothes Wisdom

Do you know that one-half of the grumpiness that exists among the male population during the hot, sweltering summer months could be eradicated if men would wear reasonable clothing?

In winter, men dress to keep warm, which is sensible.

In summer men SHOULD dress to keep cool—ordinary logic!

You can't keep comfortable in summer by wearing woolen garments, can you?

Patric Beach, Mohair and Silk Suits—the kind of garments you should wear during June, July, August and early September.

They launder nicely, and reasonable in price, dressy and stamp the man who wears them as men of taste and discernment.

I have all patterns and colors—always something new.

BRYAN'S RESIGNATION WON'T DELAY WILSON'S NOTE TO BE DISPATCHED THIS AFTERNOON

OFFICIAL RESIGNATION AND ACCEPTANCE

Secretary Bryan's letter of resignation was as follows:
"My Dear Mr. President:
"It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of Secretary of State, with which you honored me at the beginning of your administration.
"Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives, you have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country, and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war.
"I therefore, respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. Alike desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen, we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed.
"It falls to your lot to speak officially for the nation; I consider it to be done the less my duty as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use.
"In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the past two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the state department, and to thank you for the courtesies extended.
"With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare, and for the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President,
Very truly yours,
"W. J. BRYAN."

Washington, June 8, 1915.
The president's letter to Mr. Bryan was as follows:
"My Dear Mr. Bryan:
"I accept your resignation only because you insist upon its acceptance; and I accept it with much more than deep regret, with a feeling of personal sorrow. Our two years of close association have been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and of public policy until now; your support of the work and purposes of the administration has been generous and loyal beyond praise; your devotion to the duties of your great office and your eagerness to take advantage of every great opportunity for service is an example to the rest of us; you have earned our affectionate admiration and friendship. Even now, we are not separated in the object we seek, but only in the method by which we seek to reach it. It is for these reasons my feeling about your retirement from the secretaryship of state goes so much deeper than regret. I sincerely deplore it. Our objects are the same and we ought to pursue them together. I yield to your desire only because I must, and wish to bid you Godspeed in the parting. We shall continue to work for the same cause even when we do not work in the same way.
"With affectionate regard, sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

SECRETARY'S ACT STARTLES WORLD

Washington, June 9.—After a conference with President Wilson today, Counsellor Lansing announced that the note to Germany would go forward to Berlin this afternoon and would be given out for publication in Friday morning papers. He said the United States would not wait for notification from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin of its receipt there before giving it out.

Mr. Lansing said the work of coding the note was under way. It is signed by Mr. Lansing as acting secretary of state.

Washington, June 9.—After two years and three months as Secretary of State of the United States—a little less than half of the Wilson administration, William Jennings Bryan today returned to private life. His departure from the cabinet under sensational circumstances because he could not join in the approval of the note to Germany or reconcile its principles to the cause which he declared to be nearest his heart.

The prevention of war, developed today, not only a most unusual situation in the domestic politics of the United States but a grave turn in its foreign policy. Staunch in his advocacy of peace and firmly set against any communication to Germany which might involve the United States in war, Mr. Bryan found himself opposed not only by the president but by a majority of the members of the cabinet in the methods of dealing with the situation. The president in his letter expressing regret over Mr. Bryan's resignation said he was not separating himself from Mr. Bryan in the objects sought in the present crisis but only in the method by which they were to be accomplished.

Members Are Determined
Mr. Wilson and his advisers are equally anxious to prevent war but in asserting the rights of the United States, they hold it absolutely necessary to affirm the American position in such a way as to leave no doubt abroad of the firm intention of the United States to enforce its rights if necessary, to secure protection for American citizens on the high seas.

Officials and diplomats who have followed the situation very closely pointed out that the president's action with Bryan in the doing of everything possible to prevent war, but believed it necessary also to be ready for any eventualities in case Germany refused to acquiesce in the American point of view as to neutral rights on the high seas and continued her attacks on American lives and vessels.

Through his friends it is learned that Mr. Bryan intends to continue his political support of the president. He has given Mr. Wilson much assistance heretofore and plans to go on with the work for the maintenance of the Democratic policy.

MAYO IS PROMOTED

Washington, June 8.—Real Admiral Henry T. Mayo, commander of the first division of the Atlantic fleet, was designated by President Wilson as a vice admiral of the navy. He is the first of three vice admirals to be appointed.

FRENCH PAPERS CALL BRYAN'S ACT A WARNING TO GERMANY

Paris, June 8.—The news of the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan which reached here too late last night for comment by morning papers is given great prominence in the evening papers, which publish detailed sketches of his career. The Midi refers to the secretary as "Pacific at any price" and says that having been this all his life his resignation should be regarded as a striking warning to Germany.

President Wilson, this paper continues, "has developed a degree of firmness of which he was not believed capable. Happen what may, the situation is becoming clearer. Let us hope that Berlin will appreciate its grave significance."

Information says: "President Wilson in maintaining his ideals has not let the realities escape him. The American character is capable of firmness and resolution and its determinations will not be without consequences."

OFFICIALS OF MINE CENSURED

A dispatch from Mytilene, says: "The attack was begun in the morning by a general bombardment of the enemy with the aid of the fleet. A fierce struggle all along the line followed and the fighting continues."

WOMEN ASK TO SERVE IN RANKS

Berlin, June 9.—From the town of Brisen in the Austrian Tyrol numerous requests have been received by the military authorities in Vienna from women begging to be allowed to serve in the ranks as soldiers. It is explained that such service is impossible.

THE WEATHER

Ohio—Fair tonight and Thursday fair.
Kentucky and West Virginia—Fair tonight and Thursday.

ROBERT LANSING TO ACT IN BRYAN'S PLACE

Washington, June 9.—Robert Lansing, successor to John B. Moore and counsellor of the state department, becomes secretary of state ad interim today. He is a son-in-law of John W. Foster, secretary of state under President Harrison, a life-long Democrat, and has been international lawyer for many years.

While there is already much gossip as to President Wilson's probable selection for the secretaryship, it is the president's plan to make his immediate appointment. It would not be surprising if he made no change in the present status of the department personnel for two or three months.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."
No truer words were ever penned, and the thought has had no more vivid emphasis in Portsmouth of late than in the cruel fate which overtook those three little lads who venturesomely started forth from the Children's Home to buffet with the world and to enjoy the wonders and delights conjured up in their childish minds, only to die in the murky waters of the Scioto river.

Deprived of parents' care, unknown to practically every resident of the city, yet the death of those little wanderers brought tears to the eyes of all.

It was so pathetic!

Just a little ravine whose placid exterior revealed not the trap of death, and which to the boys undoubtedly seemed a more ditch, but in reality was of such a depth and whose banks were of such a nature that once within its grasp only a swimmer had a chance for life.

The imagination can picture the children pausing on the bank, perhaps an eager debate as how to cross this obstacle to flight to the land where "milk and honey flowed," and then the partial dawning and timid steps into the water. Then the sudden plunge from the treacherous bank, childish cries of terror unheard by any on earth, the pitiful tossing of hands grasping vainly for support, and the final descent into the mud and filth of the river bed, where at least one of the victims, from the position in which his body was found, renewed his struggle for life, vainly trying to crawl on the oozy bottom to safety.

Yes, it is sad. But what are you going to do about it? Will your tears for the dead close the incident?

Or will the tragedy bring to your mind the thought there are other little tots in the "Home" and elsewhere, whom possibly you might help to cheer, for whom you might do something to aid them in preparing for the battles of life. The probability is that if you look about you some such case will present itself. It is up to each of you whether the tragedy of those three little boys really means more than a passing twinge of anguish.

PUSH RIGHT AHEAD.

The propositions to extend the flood wall and pave the east end of Front street do not appear to be making such headway as would indicate to any certainly the beginning of active operations this year. Delay beyond this year, especially with the wall would be a matter much to be regretted, not possibly for the mere loss of a few months, but because it may mean the putting to sleep of the improvement for an indelible period. The present council is favorably disposed to the project, but it will go out with the dawn of 1916 and there is no foretelling as to the policy its successor may pursue.

If the dwellers in the lovely lying districts appreciate the full importance of flood wall protection they will redouble their efforts to have council pass the necessary legislation and have all the details of the extension completed and even the contract let before members of a friendly council may find itself out of position where they can be of any service in advancing the undertaking.

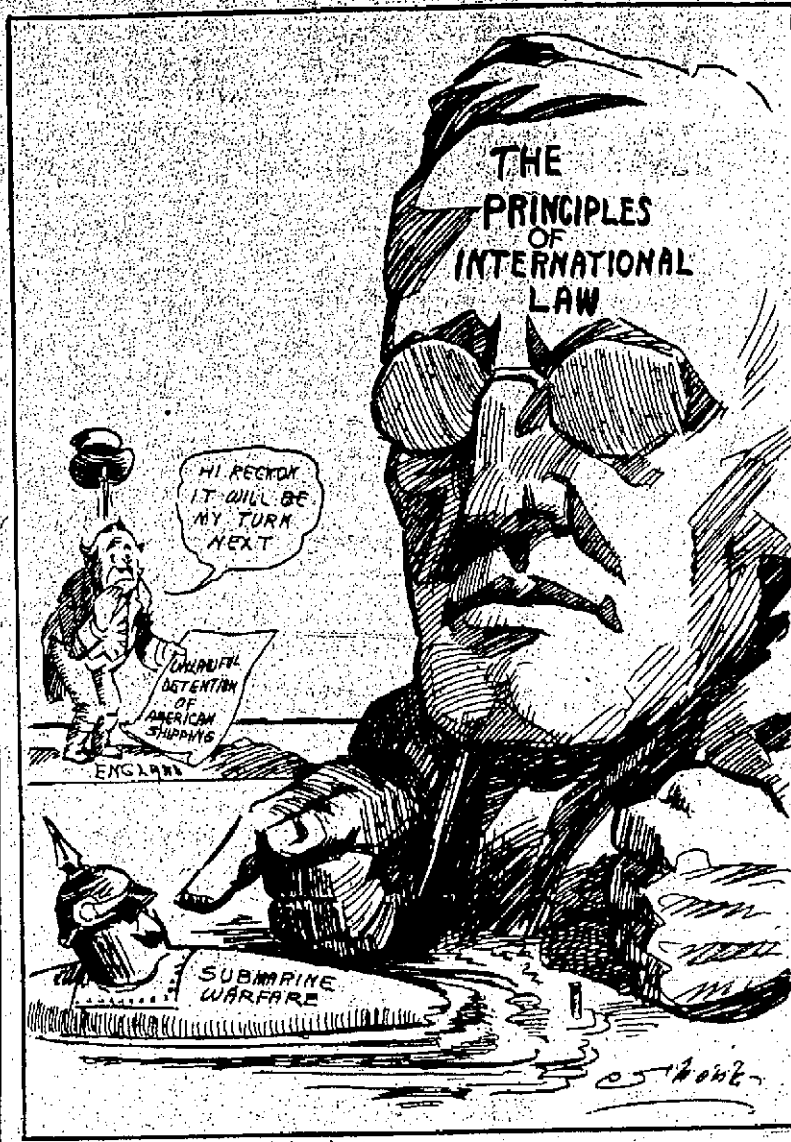

In other words, the time to secure protection is right now and the sooner the better.

SENSIBLE AND CORRECT.

A Columbus jury has awarded a motorman a verdict of $85 damages against 19 of his fellow employees. The circumstances are the motorman got married, the other day, and "went to live in a cozy little cottage he had furnished against the coming of his charming bride." There a number of other street railway people pursued him at night and gave the couple a belling. They had "just lots of fun" tossing the furniture about and sprinkling cement over the floors. In court they all insisted they didn't mean any harm, but the judge said it was no joke to break and injure another's property, no matter what hilarity it might afford the jokers. The jury took the same sensible and correct view, hence its verdict.

No use talking, you can't stop the onward march of the Peerless. Note that new floor in the Chinese laundry.

THE AMERICAN GIBRALTAR

ANOTHER LITTLE SERMON.

"We hear a great deal about efficiency," says a western editor, "usually in connection with business. The word also has a very important application in your personal affairs. Are you efficient when you meet strangers? Can you leave a good impression with them? Are you an efficient talker? One of the most delightful and pleasant arts is ability to talk intelligently and agreeably. Are you an efficient husband and father? Are you able to command the respect of your wife and children? Are you an efficient animal? Do you get the best results from the food you eat? How do you stand in the neighborhood in which you live? Are you efficient as a neighbor, or do people wish you would move?"

Wouldn't it be fine if a fellow could truthfully answer all these questions? Or, if we were so absolutely sincere with ourselves as to tell ourselves the truth; if we would study our own characteristics as we study the characteristics of others; if we would be as frank with ourselves as we are when discussing other people—wouldn't this answer to some of those questions tend to make us change our ways?—Dayton News.

YOUR MOTHER.

"Your mother's life has not been easy. Your father was a poor man, and from the day she married him she stood by his side, fighting as a woman must fight. She worked, not the eight or ten-hour day of the union, but the twenty-four hour day of the poor wife and mother. She cooked and cleaned and scrubbed and patched and nursed from dawn until bedtime, and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers, listening for croupy coughs. She had time to listen to your stories of run and frolic and triumph. She had time to say the things that spurred your ambition on. She never forgot to cook the little dishes you liked. She did without the dress she needed that you might not be ashamed of your clothes before your companions. Remember this now while there is yet time, while she is yet living, to pay back to her in love and tenderness some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it, all."—Ex.

The East Liverpool Tribune says the people demand the Cox machine shall be broken up and the only way to do this is by removing its cogs from the political office. To be sure, and see a free and independent administration is had by replacing them with good men and true, who will do any thing our good young Governor tells them to do and strive their little best to keep their party in power and themselves in jobs.

The spasm our good young Governor was throwing about Cincinnati dropping behind somewhere around fifty millions on its assessment total seems to have passed its most violent stage.

A Cleveland paper oracularly observes there are worse things than war and prudently stops right there.

THE VOICE IS DUMB.

This week candidates for city offices must file their position. It is a reminder that about a year ago a certain distinguished gentleman made the observation that it was taking a Democratic administration two years to complete 18 per cent of a water works plant, that a Republican administration had completed 84 per cent of in the same length of time. He isn't saying a word right now. He knows along with every one else how the city would have been milked to the tune of a $100,000 or more, and had a plant broken down before it really began to run had the same fellows who saw "the work 84 per cent complete" been left to accept it.

Yes, the commission form and the recall are a most delightful combination. Charleston got one, this winter, with a new charter, held an election about a month ago and already movement is afoot to recall most of the new government. And we again rise to remark that no mere form and no patent device makes a good government. You've just got to elect the right sort of men to get that.

And just to think with all these patriots rushing in petitions, declaring their earnest desire to serve the dear and helpless public, some voters are going to measure them not upon their fitness at all, but upon where their sympathies are supposed to be in the European war.

With the report that our good young Governor is going to devote now all his vast energy to the cutting and distribution of the pie there are signs of awakening activity and uneasiness among the local pie-hunting brigade.

A Chinese student, proudly claiming to be a descendant of Confucius, was graduated from Cornell, last week. It would be more interesting to know if the great philosopher has any pride in his two thousand times great grandson.

Great Britain is turning out two new battleships every week. What she had better do is to turn down a submarine every once in a while.

How unevenly things are distributed: In the Times of Portsmouth, N. H., of June 5th, we find this editorial paragraph: "We certainly do need rain, and plenty of it."

Perish the thought that Victoriana Huerta sought refuge here to keep from being run over by the water wagon that is running all over Europe.

These rains couldn't come any more opportunely, even if we ordered them ourselves.

New York, June 9.—Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the famous financier, has thrown down the gage of battle to the hordes of Broadway "lango" investigators and uplifters who have cast reflections upon the Strand Roof Garden. She denies heatedly that the garden closed, because the various uplifters turned cold shoulders upon it.

On account of the criticisms because of her connection with the dancing place, which was aimed to give a wholesome atmosphere to the night life of Broadway, the heiress is very much peeved.

"Every kind of uplift society you can mention," she says, "asks me for money. Well—they will wait a long time before they get any more from me."

Mrs. Tom Thumb has succumbed to the lure of the film. She has been engaged with Will Archie to picture plays to be produced by a company of Illiputians. Archie has called the company the "Peewee Troup."

Wall Street stenographers—who are about the loveliest in the town—have a real mystery. One of the stenographers in the "street" received the dictation from her employer closing a large deal. He signed it, enclosed it in an envelope and sealed it, but he did not wish to send it until other transactions pending were settled.

He handed the letter to his stenographer, instructing her to hold it ready to mail whenever he told her, telephoned her or telegraphed her. She called his attention to it several times and he told her to hold it a little longer and finally the document got on her nerves. Ten days later as her employer was leaving she asked him again about the letter.

"Oh—let it go," he answered, and hurried on for the 5:10 train. With a sigh of relief she took the letter to the mail chute. Just as it was about to slip from her fingers the words flashed through her mind: "Let it go!" After many futile attempts to reach her employer she put it back in the desk. She was wrong of course, or there would be no story. She should have mailed the letter, but what was the poor girl to do?

Alfred W. McCann, than whom there is no whommer as a pure foodist, has been waging a war for cheap, pure and fresh fish in the Globe. The Globe's leading story each day reeks of the fish market and the toothsome porgies. One inspired writer has written the following piscatorial carrol on McCann's activities, which was printed in a contemporary:

Watch the Corners

When you wake up in the morning of a chill and cheerless day,
And feel inclined to grumble, pout or frown,
Just glance into your mirror and you will quickly see
It's just because the corners of your mouth turn down.
Then take this simple rhyme, Remember it in time;
It's always dreary weather in countryside or town
When you wake and find the corners of your mouth turned down.

If you wake up in the morning full of bright and happy thoughts

And begin to count the blessings in your cup,
Then glance into your mirror and you will quickly see
It's all because the corners of your mouth turn up.
Then take this simple rhyme, Remember all the time:
There's joy a plenty in this world to all life's silver cup
If you'll only keep the corners of your mouth turned up.

Committee Makes Report On New Flood Wall Damages

Members George Zottmann, John R. Hughes and Ludwig Ulrich, the city committee appointed by the mayor two weeks ago, to interview property owners relative to damage claims in connection with the proposed extension of the flood wall, submitted their report Tuesday evening.

The majority of the belief that city council should also ask the committee to make a recommendation as to what it considers the most practical route. The committee's findings are as follows:

Portsmouth, O., June 7, 1915.
Hon. Adam Fitch, Portsmouth, O.
Dear Sir and Mayor:—The committee appointed by you on Flood Wall damages beg to submit the following report.

Following the line of the first survey:

C. & O. R. Co., no damage.
Hartwig, Towboat Co., no answer to letter.

James Treat estate, land between Bond and Stinson, south of the wall, $400.00.

Summers & Scormore, 10 one-story houses south of wall, $3,000.00.
W. F. Scormore, 1 two-story double frame, $500.00.

Z. Martin estate, 1 two-story double frame, wants to sell outright and not consider damage, $2,750.00.
McCormick estate, estimated no damage.

Archib. Hammond, 1 two-story frame house, damage $1,000.00.
Mark Hammond, 1 two-story with brick basement, 1 one-story frame brick basement, to sell outright, $1,000.00.

William Hammond, 1 one-story frame cottage, 1 two-story frame, 1 two-story triple dwelling, to sell outright, $5,000.00.

G. W. Zottmann, no damage if taken through on a straight line.
H. L. Dawson, land to widen Off-ners street, $725.00.

A. M. Dammann, no damage.
Should the wall be built as shown in the first survey to Union Street, then south on the west side of Union to twenty feet from the north curb line of Wheeling, then east on Wheeling to Thompson or Off-ners, the Hammond problem would be eliminated with the exception of Mark Hammond, who would make a claim of $1,000.00 damages.

Then either north on Thompson to within 12 feet from building and straight east to Off-ners, or east on Wheeling to the west side of Off-ners, north on Off-ners 12 feet north of present stake, then east in a line which will meet stake to Jackson Street.

The reason for using the west side of Off-ners street, is that Mr. Dawson does not want to sell land south of brow of hill.

G. W. Zottmann will assist in back-filling on his property between Thompson and Wheeling streets.

Your committee also suggests that openings be left so that property owners can have access to their land south of the wall.

As to using the old water works for a pumping station, we have investigated and do not think it practical.

Respectfully Submitted,
O. W. ZOTTMANN,
L. UHLRICH,
J. R. HUGHES.

Girl Attacked On Street By A Hobo

Harry Devore, an outlander of the Chillicothe team, called at police headquarters Tuesday evening and told of a near-assault upon a woman by a hobo at the foot of Court street.

Devore said he was walking along the flood wall when attracted by the sight of a rough-looking customer grabbing a young woman by the arm and of her efforts to release herself. Devore said he himself picked up a brick and started to the woman's rescue, but she finally succeeded in tearing herself away from the fellow, who "hot-footed" it out Court street. He furnished the police with a description of the man.

That the death of Nicholas Buell, 75, aged farmer of the Happy Hollow neighborhood on what is known as Little Beaver, Pike county, was due to burning was the verdict of Coroner McCann, who held an inquest. Buell's house caught fire some time between midnight and four o'clock Tuesday morning, and burned completely. Only a few charred remains of Buell's body were found the next morning. They were buried Monday afternoon in a child's coffin in Mt. Gilard cemetery.

WOMAN IS RUN DOWN BY NEGRO BIKE RIDER

Mrs. L. V. Estes, of Chillicothe, was severely hurt, when in alighting from street car No. 204 at Fourth and Chillicothe streets Tuesday evening, a colored bicyclist giving the name of Jim Johnson, ran into her, knocking her down. The young woman was considerably bruised and shaken up and her white coat and gown were bespattered with mud.

Her husband, who was with her, assisted her back to their room at the Hotel Turner. Later Mr. Estes, who is president of the L. V. Estes Insurance company, engineers of Chillicothe, appeared at police headquarters and lodged complaint against the negro, whom Chief W. T. McCormick promised to order into court.

"THERE'S PAPA SAID LITTLE GIRL, AS SHE SAW PICTURE ON SCREEN AT COLUMBIA"

In the group of attendants at the annual convention of the American Water Works Association at Cincinnati in May, shown on the screen in Padley's Weekly at the Columbia Theatre Tuesday evening, there appeared W. L. Watson, resident engineer for the J. F. Wither Company, assigned to duty at the local water works. Mr. Watson was accompanied to the convention by J. A. Yeager, a member of the Wither firm.

Mr. Watson's picture was spied in the group by his little daughter, Gertrude, 6, who clapped her hands with delight. Before her father could locate himself, the picture had passed, and he had to sit through another show to see whether his little daughter was mistaken. Sure enough, the second time he saw himself and Mr. Yeager, Mr. Watson said he did not know the picture was being taken at the time.

The Wither firm has just landed the contract for designing a ten-million dollar irrigation job near Denver, Colorado, and Mr. Watson expects to be transferred there in the fall.

NO ONE IN WORK GANG

Officer John Smith, who has been quietly investigating the robbery of the New Eighth street saloon owned by Martin Hollar and Johnson Cropper, believes that he struck "pay dirt" Tuesday evening.

Officer Smith got a line on a drinking party held Sunday, at which a certain brand of whisky, of which the above saloon firm are practically the exclusive sellers in Portsmouth, was the chief supply.

One of the young men was brought before Chief McCormick and Capt. Cooper and questioned and arrests are expected to follow.

Elks To Decide On New Quarters

Portsmouth Lodge of Elks will meet in important session this evening to take some action on the report of the special committee appointed to confer with L. D. York relative to the use of the second floor of the Play House building for Elks' quarters. Mr. York has submitted a proposition which it is up to the lodge to accept or reject.

Tentative plans for the improvements have been drawn by Richard B. Bales, a local architect, and a member of the special committee. Among other things, they provide for large, roomy porches on the Chillicothe and Sixth street sides of the building, while the interior is so arranged as to be suitable for lodge and club room purposes.

At the close of the meeting a buffet lunch will be served.

Two Girls Are Cause Of The Arrest Of A Fortune Teller
That not only did their wishes fail to come true but that they were now minus the good money they paid out and their valuable rings besides was the plea put up by Misses Mabel Jackson, and Miss Smith, two pretty young East End girls, who caused the arrest of Sarah Glenn, a licensed fortune teller of Gay and Mill streets Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Glenn was charged with fraudulently obtaining jewelry and refusing to surrender the same to the rightful owners. She pleaded not guilty.

The girls said that they had been visiting Mrs. Glenn twice weekly for the past four weeks. Miss Jackson had paid her $3 and the other girl had paid her about $1.50, they said. The woman, they said, had suggested to them that they make wishes for which she charged extra and upon her suggestion they left their rings for security of payment. The wishes did not turn out and Mrs. Glenn refused to return the rings.

Mrs. Glenn's defense was that she had paid out her hard earned money for a license and that so long as the girls still owed her she had a right to hold the rings and said she would stand a law suit to determine her rights. She claimed it was the girls' own suggestion that they be allowed to make wishes, one of them cutting cards in making a wish about a "party on a journey" and said both had assured her that their wishes were turning out all right. She claimed Miss Jackson owed her $5 and the other girl $3.

The court held it was unfortunate that people should allow themselves to believe that anyone and particularly the defendant was gifted with supernatural powers and said fortune telling was fraudulent and was licensed as a means of some protection to unsuspecting ones. Mrs. Glenn insisted that she could reveal the future and assumed a defiant attitude when given ten days time in which to restore the rings, declaring she would not do so until she had first received the balance of money due her.

After court the officials questioned whether they had the authority to take the rings from the woman but assured the girls that they would try their utmost. Miss Jackson resides at No. 1408 Eleventh street, and Miss Smith on Seventh street near Campbell avenue. They told the officials that Mrs. Glenn was preparing to leave the city.

BOMBS DROP IN VENICE, KILL ONE
Venice, June 8.—(Via Paris, June 8).—One person was killed and several wounded by bombs dropped this morning from an Austrian aeroplane which flew over the city. The property damage was not heavy and no historic buildings suffered.

When the hostile aircraft was sighted the residents of the city fled to St. Marks square. Apparently they were not concerned about their personal safety, but were chiefly concerned lest damage be done the famous basilica, the rebuilt campanile and the palace of the Doges. No bombs fell in this district, however.

Rome, June 8.—(Via Paris).—The Italian aerial version of the Austrian aerial raid upon Venice this morning was camouflaged in the following statement issued tonight at the war office:

"An enemy aeroplane flew over Venice this morning and dropped a number of bombs, which slightly damaged several houses. Fragments bruised a woman's arm and struck several persons in the head. Bombs were thrown further inland, killing one person and wounding several others."

Career Of "Boy Orator" Bryan Reads Like Romantic Novel

William Jennings Bryan's resignation as secretary of state because of a question of principle at a critical moment in the nation's history added another sensation to a spectacular career—a life devoted to arduous political campaigning, the lecture platform and the cause of universal peace.

Attracting attention when he went to congress in 1891, he leaped into prominence at once, with a speech that electrified his audience, the tall lanky westerner had early earned the name of "Boy Orator of the Platte." His famous "cross of gold" and "cross of thorns" speech in 1896 at the psychological moment in the Democratic convention won for him the nomination for the presidency. When the Spanish American war broke out he enlisted and went to the front as colonel of a regiment he helped to form. On his return he again came into prominence at the Democratic convention of 1900, and throughout his campaign against Mr. McKinley advocated the granting of independence to the Philippines and a policy of "anti-imperialism."

Notwithstanding his political defeats he was acclaimed as the peerless leader of Democracy and was supported by a large personal following.

When Mr. Bryan returned from a trip around the world in 1910, he was greeted by a great crowd in Madison Square Garden his speech advocating government ownership of railroads stirred up a sensation in Democratic politics. It was shortly after this that Woodrow Wilson, then president of Princeton University, wrote the famous letter to "Admiral Joliffe" declaring that the speech made him feel that Mr. Bryan "ought to be knocked" into a cocked hat.

Although instructed as a delegate for Champ Clark, Mr. Bryan caused another sensation at the Baltimore convention in 1912, by his fight on the Taftianity leaders in the New York delegation. He switched his support to Mr. Wilson, at a critical moment, a circumstance to which has been ascribed Mr. Wilson's nomination as well as the birth of a personal feud with Champ Clark.

During the national campaign of 1912 Mr. Bryan made many speeches for Mr. Wilson, principally in the far west.

While holding the portfolio of secretary of state, Mr. Bryan has continued in the public eye not alone through his official acts, but his devotion to two things—lecturing and politics. One of the first sensations of his official career was his announcement that grape juice would be substituted for alcoholic beverages whenever he entertained members of the diplomatic corps. His statement that $12,000 a year was not sufficient for a cabinet officer, and that he, therefore, must lecture to earn more money was another episode which drew forth comment around the world. He disregarded newspaper criticism, declaring he had never admitted himself an official business required his presence in Washington. His letter concerning the distribution of patronage in San Domingo to "deserving Democrats" was another incident widely discussed.

RUSSIANS DRIVING AUSTRIANS IS REPORT

Geneva, June 8.—(Via Paris, June 9).—A Czernowitsh dispatch to the Tribune, dated Monday says:

"The Russians north of Stanislaw have repulsed all Austrian attacks between the Swica and Lomniza rivers. General Babin's divisions operating south-east of Kolomea suffered enormous losses on the Pruth, where the Russians have gained an important success since Sunday. General Babin was unable to effect a junction with the troops of General Von Dinsingen."

A Tarnow dispatch dated Tuesday says:

"The Russians are getting nearer and nearer the Vistula driving before them the troops of General Mackensen, who probably will be obliged to fall back along his line. Since Sunday the enemy's losses have been over 2,000 killed and wounded. The Russians again have occupied a position on the right bank of the Wisshin. The Bavarian troops suffered heavy loss in the fighting between Grodek and Kouronka. The Russians have stopped the German advance on the Dniester."

Twice before, it is now known, Mr. Bryan was willing to place before the president his resignation, but each time, the president succeeded in bringing the secretary to his own point of view.

For Peace First And Last
In the present crisis Mr. Bryan is understood to have insisted upon and convinced the president that to remain in the cabinet would be very embarrassing to him because of his known advocacy of the cause of peace, particularly his negotiations of nearly thirty peace treaties with the principle nations of the world. The principle of these treaties is that all disputes be submitted to an international commission for a year's investigation during which hostilities are forbidden. Treaties of this kind have been negotiated with practically all nations except Germany, Japan and Turkey. Germany has accepted the principle of the treaties. The president heartily endorsed the idea of treaties.

The situation with Germany, however, constitutes a case which high officials here believed could not be submitted to a tribunal for investigation unless some definite guarantee were given in advance that the acts complained of would not be repeated while the discussion or investigation was in progress.

Wants Definite Guarantee
It is the purpose of the note which is now going forward to secure from Germany a definite guarantee with reference to safeguarding American lives and property in the future.

With this once established the United States probably would not be adverse to discussion of facts in the Lusitania case. A complete investigation has been conducted by the United States government and the conclusion reached is that the Lusitania was an unarmed merchantman aboard which citizens of the United States had a right under international law to travel and, if encountered by warships, to be transferred to a place of safety before the contraband or the ship was destroyed.

Distinction Of Terms.
"Of course you favor the uplift?" "I don't know," replied the busy man. "I'm a plain, practical person. Sometimes I think the uplift depends too much on literature and science. What I favor is the boost."
